

Extend Strike Truce

Action to Permit Resumption of Contract Talks in Steel Dispute

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(AP)—President Truman said today the situation looks very hopeful for settlement of the labor dispute in the steel industry.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Phillip Murray's CIO united steelworkers today put off for another week the nationwide steel strike set for Saturday midnight.

The million-member union's policy making committee joined industry in accepting President Truman's plea for extension of the strike truce until 12:01 a. m. Saturday, October 1 to permit renewed contract talks.

The action came as wildcat walkouts shut down two Pittsburgh steel plants and idled 2400 workers.

Murray and the industry deadlocked on acceptance of a presidential board's peace recommendations that the steelworkers get company financed insurance and pensions. The union accepted. Industry objected to footing the bill and refused to be bound by the report without bargaining. They've been feuding since.

Mr. Truman intervened to stave off the week-end strike. In addition to truce extension, he called for direct bargaining and early settlement.

Hope To Meet Friday

Murray announced the union wage policy committee approval of the extension. He said:

"The only thing I have to add is that we are contacting the various companies and we hope to meet with the (U. S. Steel) corporation tomorrow."

The action was taken in a resolution unanimously adopted by the committee. The resolution stated:

"The public interest requires and the American people have a right to expect an early settlement on the part of the steel companies on the basis of the board recommendation."

The two and a half hour session of the wage policy committee broke up with the 170 members standing on their feet to cheer Murray.

Two Pittsburgh district plants were closed by work stoppages. One company official blamed it on the men being "jittery over the whole situation in the steel industry." Union officials said the men were out without union authorization.

Employees reporting for work at the Universal Cylcops steel plant milled around confusedly in the rain—and then went home.

"I don't know what this is all about," said one. "We can't learn why this walkout was called."

A power house employee looked at a smokestack and said: "There's no smoke coming out. The boilers are cold. I'm going home."

Pickets appeared at the Superior Steel company plant in Pittsburgh. There was no disorder.

Only a few maintenance men showed up for work at 7 a. m. at the Bridgeville plant of the Universal-Cylcops Steel company, and Superior Steel's Carnegie works.

About 75 pickets lolled in the protection of a large shed near the gate of the Superior plant. They took refuge there from a steady drizzle which continued through the shift change.

Louis Mendys, president of Local 171 of the Steelworkers, was with the pickets. He said:

"The men have taken the initiative upon themselves. We, the local officers, and the international officers of the steelworkers, didn't know anything about the walkout until it started yesterday."

"The men are tired of extensions in the steel dispute, and that has resulted in this walkout."

She described her ailment saying: "It is some odd complaint. Nobody seems to know what it is." (AP Wirephoto)

Taft Critical On Arms Aid Program

Might Incite Russia to War he Tells Senate

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told the Senate today that the $1,314,000,000 foreign arms program is likely to incite Russia to war.

Speaking as the Senate neared a vote on the historic measure, Taft declared:

"If Russia attacks western Europe we will be in war, and I think we should be."

The North Atlantic Alliance already has put Russia on notice of that, he said.

"But this is a program to substitute the rule of might for a program of law and justice," Taft continued. "We are asked to arm to the teeth every nation in the world that may be opposed to Russia. It is fairly obvious that that is likely to incite Russia to war."

The Ohioan said no one thinks Russia is getting ready to invade western Europe.

"It's foolish to send arms if Russia isn't going to invade," he argued.

Building up western Europe's armed strength, he continued, may force the Russians to change their policy to one of attack.

"This program is more likely to lead to war than peace," he said. "It's the old armaments race all over again."

He added that in the past the arms races have always "led someone to go to war."

"I think it is likely to lead to war today."

Blackmer is Back to Face Six Charges

Indicted in 1928 By Federal Grand Jury at Denver

DENVER, Sept. 22.—(AP)—This mountain city's fabulous "child of the gods"—80 year old Henry M. Blackmer—is expected home Sunday. After 25 years of luxurious self-imposed exile in Europe, he returns to face six federal charges of income tax evasion.

The multi-millionaire oil tycoon planned to return to Denver on a Trans-Atlantic airliner. After clearing customs, he was whisked away in an automobile. Denver friends said he would fly to Chicago and board a train for Denver, arriving Sunday. He is accompanied by his second wife, Eide Norena, Norwegian soprano.

Recalls Teapot Dome His sudden return kindled the memories of the Harding administration's Teapot Dome scandal. Two of Blackmer's oil associates, Edward L. Doheny and Harry Sinclair, were involved.

Blackmer slipped away to Europe in 1924 rather than testify at a congressional inquiry into the Continental Trading company. He was a director. It was disclosed in a Cheyenne, Wyo., court that the company made $2,000,000 through a paper transaction by purchasing oil from one company and selling it to another.

The profits were used to purchase Liberty bonds. Government detectives said some of the bonds were traced to Albert Fall, secretary of the interior in the Harding administration.

Fall was convicted of accepting a bribe of $100,000 from Doheny in the leasing of the Elk Hills naval oil reserve, part of the Teapot Dome field. He was sentenced Nov. 1, 1929, to a year in prison and fined $100,000.

Doheny Acquired

In the same court and before the same judge, Doheny was acquitted on charges that he gave Fall the bribe. Doheny died in 1935.

Fall was released in June, 1932, after serving nine months in Santa Fe prison. He left there in an ambulance, a sick man. He died in 1944 at the age of 83.

Sinclair, who had been accused of passing along more than $200,000 in Liberty bonds to Fall in exchange for a lease on government oil fields, was exonerated. Later, however, he served seven months in Washington district jail for contempt of the senate in refusing to answer questions at a hearing in 1929.

Sinclair, now 73, is president of the Sinclair Oil Corp., with offices in New York.

Reported in Hospital

BOSTON, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Henry M. Blackmer today was reported at the New England Baptist hospital.

The 80-year-old oil tycoon was taken immediately to the hospital after he flew here yesterday, ending 25 years of exile in Europe.

Attaches at the hospital refused to give a report on his condition—but indicated it was not serious.

The multi-millionaire financier—key figure in the Teapot Dome scandal during the Harding administration—was believed undergoing a physical checkup.

Cancer Clinic To Be Held Friday

Woman Really Tax Minded

DULUTH, Minn., Sept. 22.—(AP)—Scene: Office of county supervisor of assessments.

A woman enters, speaks softly: "I'm not paying enough taxes on my property."

Supervisor Warren Crosby's legs weaken, mouth flies open, ears wiggle. He says, faintly, "Lady, sit down. Then, please let me sit down—I'm not used to this."

The woman, identified as a Duluth school teacher, explains she doesn't think her annual tax bill of $36 on a summer cabin is high enough. A hurried check of the files shows she pays an amount equitable with that paid by other property owners in the vicinity.

Exit honest taxpayer, amidst scratched heads, perplexed expressions.

Russia Directs 'Commies'

Such is Charge by Nationalists of China to UN

By The Associated Press

Nationalist China charged before the United Nations today that Russia is directing the Chinese Communists and urged support for the Nationalists to prevent Communism from engulfing the Far East.

The Nationalist spokesman, Dr. Tingfu F. Tsiang, delivered his address in the general assembly 24 hours after the proclamation in Peking of the Communist "People's Republic of China."

As he spoke, on the other side of the world Chinese Communist forces moved on the big southeastern seaport of Amoy, and Nationalist forces yielded ground.

The Communists now govern more than half China's 457,000,000 people and control about half of the land surface.

There was speculation that the new republic, under leadership of Mao Tse-Tung, will make a bid for U. N. membership following the anniversary of the Sun Yat-Sen revolution, October 10. It was expected that Soviet Russia or one of her satellites would sponsor such a move.

There was no indication that Dr. Tsiang would lodge a complaint against the new Red regime. Up until now the nationalists have maintained in the United Nations their problem is one of civil warfare—an internal matter.

To Consult Powers

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson spoke before the assembly yesterday. He did not mention China. He is committed to consult with other western powers before making any decision on American recognition of the Chinese Communist regime.

Washington observers said the western powers would eventually recognize Mao's government—unless the Communists raise extraordinary obstacles—but they will be in no hurry to do so.

The British cabinet met today to discuss ways of curbing prices under the new devaluation of the pound. Politicians of the left and right said the labor government is facing a crucial test in making its cheapened money policy work.

Hit-And-Run Driver Kills K. C. Child

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Two-year-old Dean Carpenter was injured fatally Wednesday by an automobile that did not stop after striking the child in the street.

The child died 15 minutes after being struck near the home of his parents. Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Carpenter.

The death was the 16th traffic fatality this year in the city and ended a 55-day period of no fatalities.

Insistent on Symington Appearing

Navy Court Sends Officer to Use Persuasion

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(AP)—A special Navy court insisted today that Air Secretary Symington testify in person in its B-36 inquiry. It sent an officer to persuade him to do it.

Symington, whose name figured prominently in the once-anonymous memo that set off a congressional inquiry into the air force's bomber program, once advised the Navy court he could not appear. Later he offered to answer questions submitted by the court in writing.

After the second communication from the secretary's office today, Admiral Thomas C. Kinkaid directed the court's attorney, Capt. Sanford B. D. Wood, "to inform Mr. Symington his physical presence is needed before the court."

Some two hours later the air force said Wood had an appointment to see Symington, at the secretary's office, at 3 p. m.

Inquiry Pressed

While the Navy court pressed its inquiry into the origin of the B-36 memo, Mrs. James V. Forrestal, widow of the late secretary of defense, confirmed the existence of a diary kept by her husband. Such a diary has been mentioned in the inquiries into the development of the air force's bomber, with the suggestion that it covers Forrestal's information on the matter.

Mrs. Forrestal visited President Truman at the White House and was asked afterwards about the diary testimony.

She replied that "I know there is" a diary but that is all she knows. She did not confirm that there is B-36 information in it.

Mrs. Forrestal did not discuss her conversation with Mr. Truman.

The tug of war between the air force and the navy developed after Wood read to the court a memorandum from Symington saying he would be willing to supply answers to questions submitted to him by the court in writing.

The court, investigating the background of the once-anonymous document which touched off congressional hearings on the B-36 program, requested yesterday that Symington appear today as a witness.

In his memorandum, Symington said he learned of the request yesterday just as he was leaving for New York to attend a dinner of the American Ordnance Association. He said he cancelled plans to remain in New York through today, and returned early this morning in order to receive any questions the court might want to submit.

After Wood read the memorandum, he told the court he understood Symington was at his office waiting for the questions.

Tokyo Rose Trial In Last Stages

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The long and often monotonous Tokyo Rose treason trial is in its final stages. The government is scheduled to present its closing argument today.

Eight overt acts of treason are charged to Mrs. Iva Toguri D'Aquino while the 33-year-old Los Angeles-born Japanese was a wartime broadcaster in Japan.

The defense fought yesterday to show that the taunting remarks recalled by ex-service men who testified at the trial could not have been made by the defendant.

Bald and scholarly Gertrude Olshausen told the jury that not a single one of those remarks had been substantiated by the government-monitored broadcasts of the "zero hour."

Olshausen said the United States monitored the broadcasts in Hawaii and Oregon for 16 months. Yet, he added, not a word introduced from such monitoring showed any treasonable statements in the program.

Olshausen pictured Iva Toguri as pro-American.

Daylight Savings To End Sunday

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Daylight saving, the summer dividend of an extra hour of evening recreation for some 50,000,000 Americans, ends this Sunday.

The official time for turning back the clock an hour in nearly all "fast time" zones is 2 a. m. Sunday.

As usual, daylight saving was observed in most of the northeastern sector of the country this year and in several large cities of the middle east.

It was shunned in the south, and in most states of the middle west and far west.

Storm Threat On Gulf Coast

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 22.—(AP)—The season's first tropical storm threat to the Texas Gulf coast appeared to be losing intensity today.

The U. S. Weather Bureau ordered storm warnings down from Port O'Connor to Brownsville and that previous hurricane warnings from Port O'Connor to Freeport be changed to northeast storm warnings.

"The disturbance has not increased and strongest winds reported this morning were only 35 miles per hour" the 10 a. m. advisory reported.

Winds of 75 miles per hour are considered of hurricane strength. Winds of 60 miles per hour had been reported yesterday.

Small craft on the Louisiana and Texas coasts were warned to remain in port. Tides were predicted to be considerably above normal along the Louisiana coast.

Storm warnings continued to be displayed from Port O'Connor to Lake Charles, La.

Bus Drivers Of MoPac Vote For A Strike

Unless Demands For New Contract Are Met; No Date Is Set

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Negotiations were in progress here today to stall off another possible transportation strike in much of the area served by the Missouri Pacific railroad.

Involved in the negotiations were union representatives and officials of the Missouri Pacific Transportation company—a subsidiary of the Missouri Pacific railroad.

The 350 drivers are members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, one of the four unions on strike against the railroad. F. A. Purcell of Cleveland, O., a national officer of the union, said a mail vote indicated 95 per cent sentiment in favor of a strike to enforce the demands.

Company and union representatives met here today with Roy L. Burton of the U. S. mediation and conciliation service. Burton said another negotiating meeting was scheduled for tomorrow but that otherwise "no noticeable progress was made."

The drivers are seeing an increase in pay of one to 1.01 cents this would represent a pay increase of "better than 18 per cent." Five other less important issues are involved in the dispute, Burton said.

The bus company serves Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas and the cities of Cairo, Ill., Memphis, Tenn., and Greenville, Miss.

End Not In Sight In Strike

Chances Fade on Early Settlement In Dispute of Coal Miners

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Sept. 22.—(AP)—Negotiations to settle the "no pension, no work" coal strike broke down again today.

John L. Lewis and soft coal operators from the north and west met here and recessed their contract talks for another week after Lewis turned down for the third time a proposal that the old agreement be renewed for two years.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Sept. 22.—(AP)—Disorders broke out again in the West Virginia coal fields today as hopes faded for a quick settlement of the "no pension, no work" strike of union miners.

A caravan of 1,500 to 2,000 roving pickets in about 500 cars toured non-union mines in Barbour and Upshur counties southeast of Clarksburg.

By Harold W. Ward

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Sept. 22.—(AP)—Chances for an early settlement of the coal strike faded today even though southern mine owners hinted they were getting ready to make up the back payments to the United Mine Workers welfare fund.

The 480,000 UMW members walked off their jobs last Monday after trustees of the welfare fund voted to halt benefit payments. The fund was threatened with a deficit even before some southern operators began withholding royalty payments on the grounds their contract with the union expired in June.

Northern and western coal operators meeting here with John L. Lewis sparred for time, watching developments in the steel dispute. Union sources said the mine owners virtually announced they would do no business until there was more clarification of the steel controversy.

The steel industry is opposing the type of pension proposed by a presidential fact-finding board financed by employers alone. The future of Lewis' pension system built on employer royalties currently at 20 cents a ton may rest on the ultimate settlement in steel.

Charge Delay Tactics

Neither Lewis nor the operators would discuss details of their negotiations here yesterday beyond the union declaration that the operators were trying to delay the talks.

The Lewis camp gave some signs that the mine leader would use that as the basis for a blast at the operators' before a week-end recess.

COMPARE THESE MM ONE-ROW HUSKOR FEATURES

No other one-row corn picker-husker offers so many features to give you the assurance of top performance, dependability, and long life. Floating snouts are adjustable to five different floating positions. Three gathering chains instead of the usual two operate close to the ground, grasp the stalks and guide them into the snapping rolls in an upright position. MM picking rolls are longer and are specially designed to snap off the ears and to prevent shelling in the field. They are 2 1/2 to 12 inches longer than those on other machines and do a cleaner job on both low hanging ears and tall stalks. Extra large capacity husking bed with 8 husking rolls each 27 inches long does a faster, cleaner job of husking. Large capacity shelled corn savor separates shelled corn from the silks and husks. The MM One-Row Huskor is lighter running because of fewer gears, more high grade anti-friction bearings, positive pressure grease-gun lubrication, and large-diameter wheels, and minimum weight with maximum strength. Easily operated by the average 1- to 2-plow tractor.

Phillips Gasoline Plant Explodes

BORGER, Tex., Sept. 22—(P)—An earth-shaking blast at the Rice gasoline plant of the Phillips Petroleum Company injured four persons Wednesday.

The explosion occurred in the plant located at Phillips.

A hospital spokesman said those injured were "not too serious," condition. He said the four were all of the injured, but company policy wouldn't let him give their names.

Company officials said the entire area had been evacuated to facilitate rescue operations.

The blast sent mushrooming clouds of smoke almost 400 feet into the air. And flames almost half as high.

Borger sent its four fire trucks to the scene, and the city's five ambulances raced there.

Jack Roberts of Borger's radio station KHUZ quoted Miss Helen Johnson, Red Cross field secretary as saying that casualties at the plant so far were not determined.

He said that after the first explosion there was a series of smaller blasts, and flames shot hundreds of feet into the air.

The Red Cross had first aid and emergency units standing by until workers could get into the damage parts of the plant.

Phillips is about a mile and one half northeast of Borger.

PARIS — The small hat which uncovers a woman's hairline has taken shape here in fall millinery.

One collection which shows what women will wear atop their new fall and winter costumes borrows ideas for hats from elves and pixies. A peaked pixie cap of wine colored velvet which uncovers half of a woman's hair-do is an Orléans creation, bejeweled over one ear with a spray of baguettes and diamonds (right).

Another pixie inspired hat, small and peaked of rose-colored velvet taupe, is cut high to reveal the hairline, low to hide the ears (left). Its crushed peaked top is accented by a plume-styled clip set with diamonds. A small draped hat of feathers —of breast of guinea hen—is typical of Janet Colombier's styling for fall (center). The brim of a spectacular hat of yellow and black-speckled feathers descends to one side and folds back to display a soaring wing anchored by a jeweled brooch.

Headboards:

A Few Ideas for Headboards, Some Inexpensive Materials and a Pair of Willing Hands Are all That are Needed to Make a Handsome Bed of a Mattress and Spring

By Marjorie Scilken, NEA Staff Writer

A SLIPCOVERED HEADBOARD.—One of the simplest headboards is made of a plywood frame cut to the width of the bed which is padded and slipcovered with a gay cotton fabric.

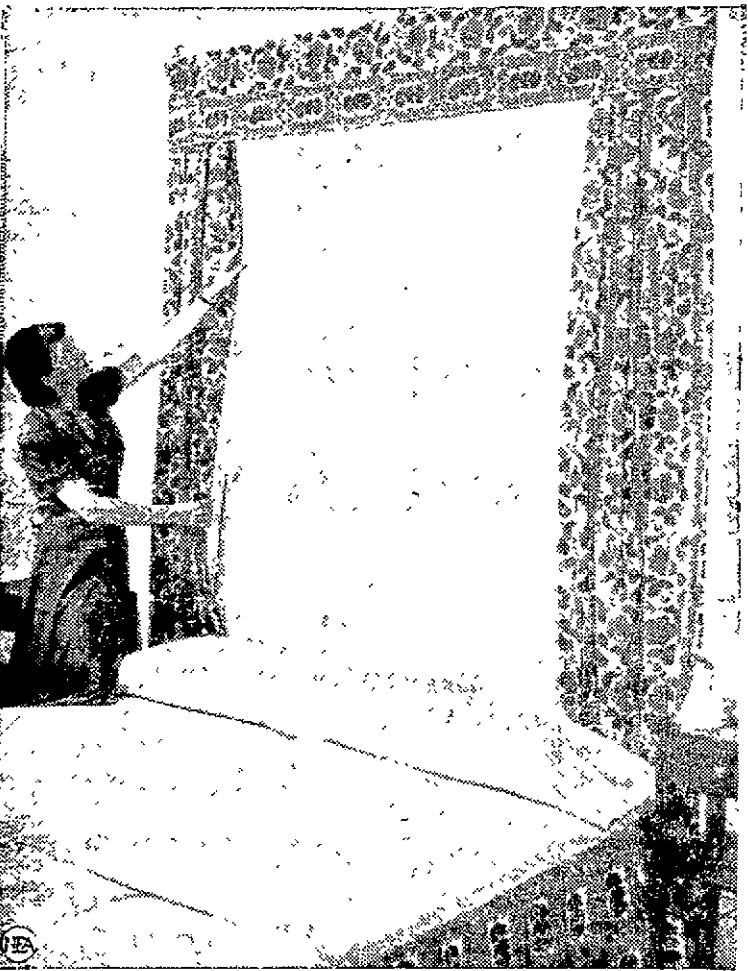

The cotton padding is held in place over the front of the plywood board by muslin stretched over it, then tacked to the back of the headboard.

To make the slip cover, cut material to fit plywood frame, allowing an extra inch at sides and top. Allow for the thickness of the plywood board by cutting a separate strip two inches wider than the width of the board.

For perfect fit, pin the material smooth and shape it directly on the padded headboard as the home maker does (inset). The binding is pinned between the front and the back of the material to form a width of about one-eighth inch all around.

When pinning operation is finished remove the slip cover and seam-up. Then slip it over the padded headboard (picture right) and tack below bedline. It can be removed for washing.

A Simulated Canopy Board

Another headboard treatment that will glamorize an ordinary mattress-and-spring is to rig up a simulated canopy which, as shown (left) duplicates the glass window curtains and overdrapes. This can be handled as inexpensively as curtaining a window.

The wall behind the mattress-spring is treated like a window. Glass curtains are hung from the molding above, gathered tautly by a rod run through the lower hem and secured to the baseboard line behind the bed. Bright chintz drapes are pinch-pleated and hung on either side. A chintz valance that may be tacked to a plywood board or hung free, finishes off this window treatment.

If the gay chintz pattern is repeated in the bedspread ruffle, the high-fashioned bed will look decorator-finished.

To Marshall to Return
To M. V. College
Allen Bess and Miss Eleanor Louise Bess, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Bess, 1115 West Third street, left this week for Marshall, where he is a senior and she is a junior in Missouri Valley college.

Professional nursing in the United States had its origin in 1873.

Useful and Inexpensive

Fireplace accessories needn't be expensive nor fancy—simple equipment emphasizes cheerful hearths. An example is a galvanized steel coal hod for carrying and storing kindling. These receptacles are moderately priced at all hardware and general merchandise stores. A decorative trick is to paint them to blend with fireplace settings.

Tweed Ensembled With Red Accessories

Red accessories with a "look of affinity" were planned to give town and country elegance to this red and gray tweed suit. A beret of red beaver felt sports a pheasant feather; red calfskin pumps tie ghillie-fashion and a red alligator bag swings from the shoulder of the checkered tweed jacket.

By Espie Kinard
NEA Fashion Editor

Whether the fabric for their new winter "dress" is as rough to the touch as hop-sacking or as smooth as silk, it's featured in the best turned tradition. It has suppleness and warmth. It is woven in plaids, checks, stripes or monotonous for super subtleties or for color contrasts that are sharp and sure.

There's an example of the "sharp and sure" contrast between patterned and plain tweed in Brigrance's suit of red and gray. The double-breasted jacket is a checkerboard of red and gray, ensembled with a gray turtle-neck sweater. The skirt is monotone red.

Here are accessories with a "look of affinity" for his tweed suit, which Brigrance picked. A beret of red beaver felt matched to the red tweed, is trimmed with a pheasant feather, a jeweled clip.

Also matching are red calfskin bumps, laced and tied ghillie-fashion and a small compact bag of red alligator, swung from a shoulder strap.

Plan Purchase Of School Stove

The Tanglenook Parents Teachers Association held its meeting, September 9. The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. J. L. Reine. Mrs. Harry Hall gave the devotional. The singing of America was led by Mrs. J. H. Rabourn, the teacher.

Mrs. Betty Merrick, health nurse, gave a very interesting talk on health and immunization of diseases.

The need for a cook stove was discussed. Plans were made to secure funds for the purchase.

The next meeting will be October 14, and the men of the community will have charge of the program and refreshments.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served by the ladies.

Death on the Battlefield What It Means:

By Clarke Beach

WASHINGTON—Big guns kill the most soldiers. Yet rifles and machine guns are the most deadly. A hit from a bullet is far more likely to cause death than a hit from a shell fragment.

These are some of the facts brought out in a report on battle casualties made for the Army Ground Forces. It was "classified" until recently and so not available for publication. The "Infantry Journal" in its September issue reviews its findings.

Facts about death in action are hard to find. Medical men seldom have time to study battlefield dead. Usually about the only data the army gets is from graves registration personnel, who can only make rough guesses.

A few careful studies, however, were made in the last war. The most thorough was done by medical personnel in the Bougainville, New Georgia and Burma campaigns. They found that a soldier had the least chance of surviving if he were hit by a machine gun bullet. Next came the rifle, then artillery, mortar and grenade, in that order. At Bougainville 58 per cent of machine gun casualties died, yet only six per cent of grenade casualties failed to survive.

Rifle and machine gun bullets have high velocity; the shock effect is lethal. One hit often is enough to finish you.

But in large scale engagements, wounds by shell fragmentation don't come one at a time. The Japanese didn't have massed artillery in the Bougainville and other early campaigns. The Germans had it in Europe and Africa, however. There the story was different.

One thorough study of 1,000 battlefield dead was made by medical officers in Italy. They found that 85 per cent of the deaths were caused by fragmentation wounds—artillery, bomb, grenade or mortar. Only 10.7 per cent of the deaths there were caused by gunshot wounds.

The difference was that those who died from fragmentation had an average of seven wounds. Those who died from gunshot had an average of 1.6 bullet hits. The conclusion drawn by the "Infantry Journal" is that "multiple wounds appear to be the rule in battlefield deaths."

To be killed by a shell you usually have to be close to the burst. The fragments lost their lethal velocity at a relatively short distance. On the other hand, if you are close enough to be badly wounded by one fragment, you are likely to be stuck by many of them.

In the New Georgia-Burma studies, it was learned that 80

FIRST GERMAN CHURCH—The "Peace Church" of Berlin-Friedenau Evangelical Community, first built in Berlin since war, was financed by donations from Germany and abroad.

per cent of those killed by mortar and artillery fragments were less than 10 yards from the point of burst. Eighty per cent of those killed by rifle, machine gun fire were hit at ranges at less than 100 yards.

Here are some other facts disclosed by the studies:

1. Very few men die from wounds in the legs or arms. More than three-fourths of the men so wounded recover without leaving the theatre in which they are fighting.

2. Men who are wounded in the head, chest or abdomen usually don't survive and return to duty unless the wound is superficial. If it is penetrating, it is fatal more often than not. Helmets prevent deep head wounds by shell fragments. Light chest armor would deflect missiles, save more lives.

3. Infantrymen, representing only 14 per cent of the strength of the Army over seas, received 70 per cent of the cumulative battle casualties. Further, the rifle company receives twice as many casualties as any other type of company in an infantry division. And riflemen suffer almost five times as many casualties as any other group of men in the division.

4. "The fact that a large portion of our casualties are due to our own fire is little known," says the "Journal." "Accurate figures exist

"NO LONGER NERVOUS!"

Switching to Famous Cereal Drink Brings Natural Relief

It's better to be nervous than to be a nervous wreck! People who once suffered just as you do—have found the answer in switching from coffee and tea to POSTUM.

EXAMPLE: A woman in New York City writes this sincere and moving letter: "My switch to POSTUM has given me a new lease on life! I no longer fear the sleepless nights and the nervous tired feeling that made life a bore!"

SCIENTIFIC FACTS: Both coffee and tea contain caffeine—a drug—a nerve stimulant! So while many people can drink coffee or tea without ill-effect, others suffer nervousness, indigestion, sleepless nights. But POSTUM contains no caffeine or other drug—nothing that can possibly cause nervousness, indigestion, sleeplessness!

MAKE THIS TEST: Buy INSTANT POSTUM today—drink POSTUM exclusively for 30 days. See if POSTUM doesn't help you, too, to sleep better, feel better, enjoy life more!

INSTANT POSTUM—A Vigorous Drink made from Healthful Wheat and Bran. A Product of General Foods.

Tumbling off a chair he fell through a third story window, bounced off an electric wire, and hit the ground 35 feet below. His screams were only from fright, however. He was only bruised slightly but sent to the hospital for observation. (Associated Press Photo)

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round Republican Senator, Not Dixiecrat, Blocks Civil Rights Program

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, September 22 — It was not a Southern Democrat but a midwest Republican who stopped the Senate labor committee from approving the fair employment practices bill behind closed doors. This is the most controversial measure in President Truman's civil rights program. But the vote was blocked on a technicality by GOP Senator Donnell from the President's home state — Missouri.

Atlantic Defense — The state department has called a highly secret meeting of the joint chiefs of staff of the twelve countries in the North Atlantic pact. They will meet in Washington the last week in September.

Food For Democratic Countries — The food and agricultural branch of the United Nations is setting up an important organization to sell surplus American farm products to the undernourished countries of western Europe and India. The plan should benefit both American farmers and Democratic countries and the experts claim they have worked out a plan to lick the toughest problem in international trade — the dollar shortage.

Senatorial Speculator

It looks as if Senator Thomas' speculating partner, Dyke Cullum, has diverse and widespread interests.

Last week it was revealed that Cullum, who frequently claims to represent Thomas, had bought ten carloads of egg futures at the same time that the senator from Oklahoma had introduced legislation taking the support price off eggs. Senator Thomas and Cullum have used a joint trading account on the commodity exchange in the past.

Now, in addition to eggs, it develops that Cullum has been pulling wires with the agriculture department regarding lard.

Cullum's influence in agricultural matters results from the fact that Thomas, as chairman of the Senate agriculture committee, can block or pass most farm legislation.

Therefore, when Cullum, who helps the senator write legislation, demands inside information from the agriculture department, agriculture officials can't tell whether they are giving it for legislative purposes or for speculative purposes. Naturally, inside knowledge of government purchases and price supports could be used to make big profits on the commodity market.

Is Senator in Lard?

Last month, Cullum began pestering the agriculture department to support lard prices. Naturally, such support would cause a spectacular jump in lard prices.

The agriculture department, however, has adopted a policy of supporting only agricultural products, not by-products. A support price for a by-product such as lard, it feels, would not help farmers, but the meat packers.

Nevertheless, Cullum phoned George Parks in the fats and oils branch in the name of Senator Thomas and demanded a price support for lard. Parks promised a written reply, and when it didn't come fast enough, Cullum made two phone calls to David Pettus in the livestock branch for information on price supports. Again he suggested that the government buy lard. Each time he represented himself as speaking for Senator Thomas and the Senate agriculture committee.

As a result of Cullum's activity, the agriculture department finally sent an official letter to Senator Thomas, dated Aug. 24, in which it made pointed reference to Cullum's queries. The letter began:

"This is in reply to a recent telephone request from Mr. Dyke Cullum to the fats and oils branch for information regarding the calculation of a parity price for lard. As you know, the parity price concept heretofore has applied only to direct agricultural commodities sold by farmers. It has not applied to products such as fats and oils which are processed from agricultural products and sold by processors. . . ."

Last year the Senate expenditures subcommittee under Ferguson of Michigan started to probe the flagrant speculating of Senator Thomas and his weird link with Cullum. Investigators actually raided Cullum's office, whereupon Thomas threatened to expose some of Senator Ferguson's connections in Michigan and the probe was suddenly dropped.

Merry-Go-Round

President Truman has decided to name Gen. Walter Bedell Smith as the top American military representative on the North Atlantic Pact defense committee. This will bring him face-to-face again with British Field Marshal Montgomery, the man Smith bitterly criticized during the war for his cautious tactics against the Germans. . . . Friends of Secretary of Commerce Sawyer say there is a good reason for his many trips to Ohio. Sawyer, they say, is preparing a buildup to oppose Senator Taft in his re-election race next year. . . . Agile young Congressman Gore of Tennessee is also getting a buildup to run against octogenarian Senator Kenneth McKellar. . . . Captain John Crommelin, who spoke out of turn against the Air Force, has been flooded with job offers and magazine contracts. If he is kicked out of the Navy, he intends to go back to the family farm near Montgomery, Ala.

Battle Over Canadian Wheat

GOP farm-bloc senators, led by Milton Young of North Dakota and Edward Thyne of Minnesota, have been huddling for several days in preparation for a vigorous drive to forestall the three power wheat agreement whereby Great Britain will be allowed $175,000,000 of ECA money to buy Canadian wheat and flour.

GOP senatorial strategy is to amend the ECA appropriation in order to prohibit the Canadian wheat purchases at a time when American farmers are building up the greatest wheat surplus in years. However, Republican leader Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska admits privately that the farm-bloc senators do not have the votes to put over the amendment.

Meantime, Agriculture Secretary Brannan has assured congressional leaders that the new wheat agreement will not injure the American farmer, but probably will increase foreign purchases of U. S. wheat, chiefly in South America.

Canada has assured the state department that it will curtail its wheat trading in South America in return for British purchases of Canadian wheat with ECA dollars.

Secretary Brannan also has told congressional leaders that the agreement will increase Canadian dollar reserves, so the United States can sell Canada more farm commodities, such as fruit and vegetables, as well as industrial products.

Management Should Prepare Itself Better For Bargaining

By Bruce Bissat

Cyrus Ching, director of the Federal Mediation Service, says he thinks it's fair to conclude that unions come to the bargaining table better prepared than employers.

He told the United States News: "I think they (the unions) frequently have a more persuasive background of figures and facts, whereas the employer, though well and ably represented, is frequently unfamiliar with the statistics of the industry, or the area, or the practices in other establishments."

Ching cannot be accused of pro-labor bias. He was once labor relations director of the United States Rubber company. Furthermore, his mediation service gets an inside look at more labor disputes than any other agency sees.

Thus management's labor relations experts ought to feel some embarrassment at his statement.

Ching thinks too many employers are not properly prepared for bargaining because they still consider labor relations a side issue.

On the other hand, he believes that union negotiators often acquire wide familiarity with an industry's problems just from their repeated appearances in conferences with many firms in the field. Management, of course, cannot duplicate this experience.

A further management difficulty is that top executives nowadays bear a tremendous load. Many argue they are so burdened with having to make fast, accurate business decisions that they have virtually no time to see their job in any real perspective.

They don't always know all they should about their own company. They may never even glance at reports in trade papers or other sources that tell how the rest of the industry is handling particular problems.

Anyone can sympathize with their dilemma. But however great the load, it still seems fair to ask employers to arm themselves with the fullest possible information when they sit down with union leaders.

Management owes this much to itself, to the unions and to the public which wants a fair settlement of any dispute affecting the general welfare.

For all their burdens, employers have matchless facilities for assembling data pertinent to wage and other negotiations. If they fail to use them, they come handicapped to the bargaining table.

No fair-minded citizens care to see either management or labor at a disadvantage when they face each other. The two should meet on an equal footing. That means balance not alone in strength but in preparedness.

The Last Bivouac

Something went out of American life forever the other day in Indianapolis. Six grizzled, enfeebled veterans of the Civil War met and decided they would never again be able to gather together as they have been doing for 83 long years.

The six made a sad picture. Three were in wheel chairs, one needed crutches. They ranged in age from 100 to 108 years. They were gaunt of frame and their shoulders drooped.

This was their last courageous effort at holding onto a memory that is rooted deep in their country's history. To their victorious Grand Army of the Republic, the nation owes its prized unity from ocean to ocean.

For decades these veterans, the last remnants of a force once numbering 400,000, have been celebrating the great moments in the struggle that kept America whole. The nation has joined in honoring them. Their colorful gatherings will be missed from the American scene.

• So They Say

For the last six months, in every plant we have, management has gone in and given (workers) the low-down facts on the business. . . . I think they are entitled to know.—Charles E. Wilson, president of General Electric.

The woman of 1950 will be casual, daring and boyish, with no hips, no bust and a close-cropped hurricane haircut. — Christian Dior, originator of the "New Look."

I do not see how our free society can survive if those who have deep convictions reject the opportunities to carry those convictions into public life. — Sen. John Foster Dulles, announcing his candidacy for the Senate.

Mothers Ought to Glamorize Home Making for Daughters

A father should take his son to his office, shop, or factory rather than to the movies or a baseball game because it is important for a boy to know what a man's world is like and to feel that he understands it, says Dr. Paul Popenoe, director of the American Institute of Family Relations.

Sure, and it's important for a mother to take her daughter into the kitchen, too, and otherwise acquaint her with the job of home making for the same reasons.

Home economist says that we will have to start glamorizing the job of home-making, if we want girls to look forward to becoming home-makers and feel satisfied with home-making as a career.

That is one job the schools can't do. A girl gets her ideas about home-making at home.

It's her mother who can give her a real respect for the job of home-making. But she can't do it by letting the girl remain ignorant of the skills that go into home-making.

Give Her the Know-How

She has to teach her how to run a house and tell her why she does a certain thing one way instead of another.

She has to let her daughter see that she takes pride in her job—that it isn't just a weary routine, or one that anyone could do as well—but a job requiring many different talents.

Above all, she can't expect her daughter to look forward to being a home-maker if she herself says, "Mary doesn't know the first thing about cooking or cleaning up a house. But I figure she'll be tied down soon enough to housework—so she might as well have fun while she can."

So while her husband is teaching their son how important a man's world is—a woman should see that her daughter is taught how important a woman's world is, too.

Science Needs to Know More About Neuritis And Neuralgia

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Neuritis means an inflammation of a nerve or of nerves which is accompanied by pain and tenderness, disturbances of feeling or sensation, and a certain amount of muscular wasting. Neuralgia merely means that there is pain in the nerve or nerves usually without the presence of inflammation.

Because either neuritis or neuralgia can come from many different diseases or conditions, the problem is always to try to find the cause in each case. They are, for example, fairly frequent in diabetes, especially if the condition has not been controlled by suitable diet or insulin.

Nerve pains can come from vitamin deficiency, especially the lack of vitamin B-1. One type of neuritis is common among the victims of chronic alcoholism.

Replace Vitamin B-1

Perhaps at least part of the reason for this is that such persons substitute alcohol as a food in place of a properly balanced diet containing enough vitamin B-1. Whether this is true or not, this type of neuritis can be much improved or even relieved entirely in many cases by giving enough of this vitamin.

Except in the simple cases, neu-ritis and neuralgia are often difficult to treat satisfactorily. In some cases the pain is so severe and so long-lasting that human nature is strained to the uttermost to stand it. Relief has sometimes been obtained by killing the nerve by injecting alcohol or by cutting the involved nerve surgically. Of course, this does not get at the bottom of the trouble but it is occasionally necessary to bring relief from intolerable pain.

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

The Doctor Answers

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

QUESTION: Will eating a lot of sugar candies and sweet stuff in the home cause sugar diabetes in children and adults?

ANSWER: People who are overweight and eat excessive quantities of sweets and starches are more likely to develop diabetes than others. They do not always do so, however, and it is probably incorrect to say that such eating actually causes diabetes.

Progress is being made toward the proposition for the construction of a viaduct on Washington avenue at the Missouri Pacific tracks. THE STORY: Tod Duncan's fiancée, Liz Conover, has eloped with another man and Tod is crushed by the news. He loses ambition and becomes aimless, much to the distress of Jenny Poleson, an old friend who told him of Liz's elopement. One day Jenny meets Tod unexpectedly and tries to restore Tod's self-confidence. Tod asks her to take the day off with him.

IV
Jenny saw a lot of Tod Duncan during the next few weeks. He met her after work occasionally and they had dinner together. Once or twice he went home with her to the tiny house on Catalpa street and she cooked a couple of steaks and French fries and got out a bottle of Pop's wine that was still stored in the basement.

Jenny was trying to find an apartment for the house had been sold. And Tod was trying to find a job, so they had a lot of fun looking over the rental and help wanted columns of the evening paper, and underscoring the favorable ones. They had a laugh over more than one.

"Listen to this," Tod said once. "Wanted: Closers and Canvasers." What in the world is a closer? And here's an ad for a saddle horse groom. Must have experience, house and utilities furnished. I know about horses. Liz insisted I learn to ride. We were going to have a stable of horses, among other things." He broke off then and a short silence fell between them. By tacit understanding they did not speak of Liz.

After a while he looked up and said casually, "By the way, Mr. Conover phoned today and asked me to come to his office."

"He did?" Jenny answered just as casually. She began to clear the table.

"Yes, I went down, and listened to what he had to say. It seems that the whole Conover family disapproved of Liz's elopement, including him. And he saw no reason why I shouldn't accept the job that had been arranged for me in the Agency."

Jenny paused by the sink, her back to him. "And what did you tell him?"

"No, thanks."

"Why?" She did turn now, regarding him curiously.

"Because of what he implied."

"And what was that?"

"That Liz had made a mistake, but sooner or later would come to her senses. And when she did, there I'd be, ready and waiting, as though nothing at all had happened. You see Mr. Conover's always been fond of me. He's quite a football fan."

"So you turned down the offer?"

Tod nodded. "I wasn't ready for a job like that anyhow, in a big-time advertising agency. I'd like to go back to school and get a degree. Not to State, but some other college—maybe Markwood here in town."

Jenny came over and stood by the table looking down at him. "I'm so glad to hear you talk like that, Tod. For a while I thought—"

"That losing Liz was going to get me down?" He grinned up at her. "It almost did, but I think I'll get over it pretty nicely after all. I almost told Conover off today, because he wouldn't take no for an answer, insisted that I think it over and give him an answer later."

"Well, perhaps you'll get a job soon, and then it'll be easy to tell him."

A few days later Tod did get a job with an automotive supply company. He had to buy a car, but he'd wanted one anyway. He was out of town a good deal from then on, but he and Jenny still had week-ends to go places together.

May passed and it was June. They went one fine Sunday morning out to Pop's old cabin on the river. Jenny had packed a picnic lunch, deviled eggs, potato salad in a fruit jar, pickles, minced ham sandwiches, and cookies. And Tod had brought a lard bucket full of ice and canned beer.

The day was sunny and warm to the point of sultriness. They had to park the car on the gravel road and walk in to the cabin because the lane, untraveled for so long, looked soggy. Jenny carried the picnic hamper, and their bathing suits, and Tod the lard can full of beer.

The day before had been rainy and the hot sun now made the fields steamy smelling. There was the scent of honeysuckle heavy in the air, for the vine was thick along the fences, and there was the smell of white clover too from a nearby open field.

The cabin, nothing more than a shack really, looked dismal with its closed shutters, and it smelled musty, but they soon had it opened and aired out.

The river was just right, cool and greenish looking, and not a bit muddy in spite of the previous day's rain. Tod hunted out Pop's old fishing tackle and Jenny shook the dust out of the cushions on the furniture.

THE day passed pleasantly. They swam in the deep pool below the cabin, and later, after they'd eaten, they took fishing tackle and the can of bait Tod had bought on the way out and sat together on the small wooden pier fishing. They talked a lot about Pop, the way it used to be when he was along, the funny ways he had of doing things, the way he used to get so excited when he caught a fish.

Finally they were getting ready to close up the cabin and drive back to town. Tod had already put the fishing tackle away, and Jenny was gathering up the last remnants of their lunch, putting it away in the hamper, shaking out the cloth. Tod had lit his pipe and was leaning with one arm on the fireplace mantel watching her.

Outside a robin sang its rain song, monotonously, loudly in the stillness. And the running of the river made a muted undertone.

"Jenny."

She paused and looked at him for a second, knowing instantly by the look in his eyes what he was going to say. Her heart almost

Recruiting Campaign of Missouri Guards Starts

Governor Forrest Smith and Brigadier General John A. Harris, the adjutant general, are shown congratulating Recruit John Long of Columbia, Missouri on being the first man to join the Missouri National Guard during the current recruiting campaign which runs from September 19 to November 19. The campaign is part of a nationwide drive by the National Guard to enlist 45,000 men and bring the Guard up to its current authorized strength of 400,000 men.

Of a Guard Family

Recruit Long has just enlisted in Headquarters Detachment, 175th Military Police Battalion, Missouri National Guard, at Columbia. Long comes from a Guard family, his father having served in the 128th Field Artillery at the same time as Pvt. John C. McLaughlin, who is now a major general commanding the 35th Infantry division of which the 128th is a part. Long's brother is also a member of the 175th M. P. Battalion, Missouri.

A Good "Excuse" For Late Workers

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 22—(P)—James Halter moved Wednesday. As a result a lot of persons were late to work.

Halter was moving his house and got to a trolley coach line before he discovered the house wouldn't clear the power wires. There was no way to back up the house, on rollers.

The power for the south park line was turned off for 30 minutes while electricians helped Halter across the street.

The house is one of 66 being torn down or moved to make room for a new viaduct.

Governor Smith, General Harris and Rct. Long are standing in front of one of the 10-ton trailer-trucks which will be used to encourage recruiting in the metropolitan centers of Missouri. Equipment displays will be mounted in the vans and members of the Missouri National Guard will be stationed with the vans at busy intersections to answer questions about the many advantages of joining the National Guard.

Two years ago a similar campaign, known as Operation "88-888," was sponsored by the National Guard bureau and Missouri was one of twenty-two states that made or exceeded their quotas. Missouri recruited 1950 men or 109.5 per cent of its quota in that drive.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22 — (AP) — Thomas Sullivan, university of Miami (Fla.) player from Chicago, upset defending champion Robert (Skee) Riegel 1-up in second round play of the Western Amateur Golf tournament today.

S-C Tigers Play Kemper Friday Night

First String Tiger Line Worries Kemper Coach

The Smith-Cotton Tigers journey to Boonville where they will face the Kemper high school football squad Friday night. The Tigers trounced the Yellowjackets 31-0 last year.

Last Thursday night at Liberty Park, the Tigers won their curtain raiser over the Marshall Owls by a 13-6 score. The Tigers showed the power in that game, but couldn't make headway because of penalties, mostly for holding.

Tigers Outweigh Yellowjackets
Coach Ralph Dow probably has that remedied for Friday night's game. The thought that the Smith-Cotton Tigers will field a starting squad of 10 seniors and two juniors, doesn't give Coach Arthur W. Selves of Kemper any comfort. Another worry for Kemper is that first string Tiger line, averaging 182 pounds of solid manpower. By contrast, the Kemper line averages out to 178 pounds and there is only one boy who tops the 200 mark, Jim Lytle, with 205.

The main trouble with Selves' high school club is that after trimming the squad to 32 players early this week, Selves still counts only up to three when he looks for last year's lettermen. That's all there were left and the Kemperites will need plenty of actual game seasoning before Selves can definitely decide on a starting lineup.

Dodgers Must Win Tonight's Game in St. Louis--Or Else

By Joe Reichler
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22 — (AP) — Brooklyn manager Burt Shotton is pinning his hope and faith in a 1949 pennant on his suddenly revitalized pitching staff.
With time running out, the second-place Dodgers must win tonight's final of the three-game series from the front running St. Louis Cardinals — or else.
Brooklyn is still trailing by a game and a half after yesterday's split with the Red Birds.
It will be up to either Lefty Joe Hatten (11-8) or Ralph Branca (13-5) to continue Brooklyn's amazing pitching success during the past four days.
It will be George Munger for the Red Birds. The strong armed right hander with a 15-6 record has beaten the Brooks in each of the three starts he has made against them.
Brilliant Two Hitter
The Brooks kept in the running last night when Preacher Roe, the frail looking lefthander from Arkansas, shut out the Cardinals, 5-0, with a brilliant two hitter.
Roe's masterpiece came on the heels of St. Louis' Max Lanier's 1-0 triumph over Don Newcombe, Brooklyn's big Negro right hander, pitched eight shutout innings until the Cards bunched three of their eight hits for the game's only run in the ninth inning of the afternoon game.
Sunday, Branca also had hurled eight runless rounds before yielding a run in the ninth to Chicago. In between Branca's and Newcombe's performances, Rex Barney ad Jack Banta pitched one and five hit shutouts respectively. Both were against the Cubs.
Thus the Dodgers hurling corps has allowed only two runs in the last five games.
Chuck Diering Is Injured
The Cards with Stan Musial, Del Rice, Nippy Jones and Eddie Kazak all hampered by injuries, received an addition to their hospital list last night. Chuck Diering, their demon center fielder, suffered a sprained ankle and is not expected to play tonight.
Roe limited the Cards to two singles and faced only 28 men in besting Harry Brecheen, Ted Wilks and Al Brazle.
Brecheen held the Dodgers scoreless until the fourth when they clouted him and Wilks for all five runs.
With one out, Carl Furillo singled. Jackie Robinson, who failed to hit in six tries during the day, walked. Hodges singled to score Furillo and Luis Olmo followed with a triple that ended Brecheen.
Wilks took over and Roy Campanella greeted him with a 400 foot fly that admitted Olmo to the fourth run after the catch. Duke Snider followed with a home run over the right field wall to complete the night's scoring.
Nerve Tingling Day Game
The Cards won the nerve tingling day game in the ninth inning when Joe Garagiola singled with the bases loaded and none out off Don Newcombe.
Slaughter started things with a looping double to left. Ron Northey was intentionally walked and rookie Bill Howerton beat out a bunt down the third base line.
At this point the Dodgers held a conference around Newcombe. Plate umpire Bill Stewart ordered the Dodgers to resume action and when Robinson made a "choking gesture" at Stewart he was tossed out of the game. Garagiola followed with his game winning blow, a hit off the glove of Ed Miksik, Robinson's replacement.

Lanier allowed only five singles in recording his fifth straight victory and his best since his return from Mexico.
While the spotlight centered on the Card-Dodgers doubleheader, the New York Yankees' American league lead was cut to two games over the Boston Red Sox. The Yanks were upset, 10-9, by the Chicago White Sox while the Red Sox downed the Cleveland Indians, 9-6.
Pinch Hit Homer
The Yanks blew an 8-1 lead in losing to Chicago. Gus Zernial, clobbered an uphill battle with a game winning 3 run pinch hit homer in the ninth inning off Joe Page.
Boston was forced to come from behind to beat the Indians, winning in the seventh on Ted Williams' 41st homer, Vern Stephens double, a sacrifice and Zernial's fly.
Outside of the pennant races the chief excitement was provided by Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner. He belted his 51st and 52nd home runs of the season as the Pirates bowed, 9-7, to the Boston Braves.
Kiner is two games ahead of the Nationals' record pace of 56 set by Chicago's Hack Wilson in 1930 but he's five games behind the gait of Babe Ruth, who established the major league record of 60 homers for the 1927 New York Yankees.
Other National Games
In other National league games the Chicago Cubs and the Philadelphia Phils divided a double header as did the New York Giants and the Cincinnati Reds.
The Phils beat the Cubs, 3-1, in the opener but lost the nightcap, 9-5. The Reds shaded the Giants, 5-4, in ten innings but the Giants won the windup, 5-2, in seven frames.
Art Houtteman pitched the Detroit Tigers to a 4-1 victory over Philadelphia and Dick Weik hurled Washington to a 7-0, three-hit triumph over St. Louis in the remaining American league activity.

Probable Pitchers
NEW YORK, Sept. 22 — (AP) — The probable pitchers for today's major league games (won and lost records in parentheses):

New York at Cincinnati — (2) — Kennedy (11-13) and Bowman (0-0) vs Perkowski (0-1) and Vander Meer (5-9).
Philadelphia at Chicago — Borowy (12-11) vs Leonard (7-16).
Brooklyn at St. Louis — (night) — Branca (13-5) vs Munger (15-6).

55 Strikeouts Pitched In a Softball Game
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 22 — (AP) — Herb Dudley had to pitch 27 innings to get the Clearwater, Fla. Bombers into the finals of the world series of softball.
Dudley was on the mound for 21 frames in dumping the Okmulgee, Okla., Oilers 1 to 0 and then came back to hurl a one-hitter, defeating Mercedes, Tex., 4-0 in the night cap.
His 55 strikeout performance in the marathon may have set a new world's record for softball.

Cards Split 1-0 And 0-5 With Dodgers

Lanier Blanks The Dodgers While Roe Does Same At Night

By Joe Reichler

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22 — (AP) — Preacher Roe, a frail looking lefthander who once toiled for the St. Louis chain, pitched the Brooklyn Dodgers to a comeback 5-0 victory over Cardinals last night after the Redbirds had taken the opener of their afternoon-night doubleheader, 1-0.

Roe's teammates backed up his brilliant two-hit pitching with a fourth-inning explosion that sent Harry (The Cat) Brecheen to the showers and resulted in five big runs for the Brooks.

The split left the two rivals exactly where they were before the proceedings began—with the Cards perched in first place, a game and a half to the good.

Meet Again Tonight

The teams meet again tonight in the final of their crucial three-game set. Red Munger (15-6) has been named by Manager Eddie Dyer to hurl for the Redbirds, while Dodgers skipper Burt Shotton planned to go with either Ralph Branca (13-5) or Lefty Joe Hatten, (11-8).

Including tomorrow's battle, the Cards have eight games remaining, and the Dodgers seven.

Roe, in racking up his 14th triumph of the year and his fourth over the Cards, retired the first 12 men he faced—four of them by strikeouts. A clean single to center by Enos Slaughter, the league's new batting leader, opening the last of the fifth, ended any dream Roe might have been having of a no-hitter.

The Cards' second hit was a cheapie, a slow bounding ball by pinch hitter Whitey Kurowski in the sixth. First baseman Gil Hodges had a little trouble fielding it. Roe fanned five and did not issue a pass.

Four Hits In Sixth

The Dodgers collected four of their six hits in the rousing fourth, three of them off Brecheen and the other off relief pitcher Ted Wilks. Held to a harmless single by Hodges through the first three innings, the Dodgers suddenly caused a stir among the 32,429 customers when Carl Furillo singled and moved to second on a walk to Jackie Robinson with one away.

Hodges stroked a line single to left to score Furillo with Brooklyn's first run in 13 innings. Luis Olmo followed with a long three-base blow against the right center field wall, scoring Robinson and Hodges and causing Dyer to send an S.O.S. to fireman Wilks.
Roy Campanella greeted Wilks with a 400-foot blast that hit Howerton caught up with in dead center, but Olmo romped across the plate after the catch with the fourth Dodger run. Duke Snider, who in his previous time at bat, swung vainly at a third strike, gave the Brooks their final run by blasting a fast pitch high and far over the right field stand for his 22nd home run.

Garagioli After Single

In the afternoon game Joe Garagiola singled with the bases loaded and none out in the ninth inning to break up a game which was played in a world series atmosphere. The victory boosted the Cards' margin to 2½ games over the runner-up Dodgers.
The chunky St. Louis catcher's hit climaxed a heated ninth inning during which Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson was ejected from the game by plate umpire Bill Stewart for making a gesture at the arbiter.
Robinson left the field with the bases loaded and none out. Third baseman Eddie Miksik then moved over to take Robinson's place at second. Garagiola's hit caromed off Miksik's glove into right field and Enos (Country) Slaughter scored.

came romping in with the big run.

For eight innings southpaw Max Lanier of the Cards and right-hander Don Newcombe of the Dodgers had waged a brilliant scoreless pitching duel that had the 31,468 paid spectators squirming in their seats. The game had all the tension and drama of a world series, which definitely was at stake.

Slaughter Passes Robinson.

Then it happened. Enos Slaughter, leading off the bottom half of the ninth, swung at a 2-2 pitch and raised a high looping fly along the left field foul line. The ball dropped an inch inside the white chalk mark for a double. It was only the sixth hit off Newcombe, three of them by Slaughter. Previously the Card captain had walked, singled and doubled to wrest the league's batting leadership from Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson.

Hoople Comes Out of Retirement, Warming Up With a Few Mild Upsets

By Major Amos B. Hoople
World's Upset Champion
Egad and halloo!
My zillions of readers will be elated to know I am out of retirement and again will forecast the exact football results each week-end.
I've been sequestered for a spell, studying the pretzel with an idea of applying the principle of its curves to baseball. But popular demand has overwhelmed me, so here I am — heh-heh!
Her-rumph! Right on top of news events as usual, I observe a few rules changes and on one I beg permission to digress briefly. Elimination of the rule permitting one substitute to enter the game while the clock is running is a great step in giving the game to the boys. The boys play the game. Let them have it, is my ukase!

There still will be mass substitutions, to be sure, but coaches no longer can send in single men carrying instructions without a time out. This will improve the game's thinking, according to my logic, as the boys can out-think most of the coaches anyway — sput-it!

As you know, I am an upset specialist and I have a few mild ones to offer in the opener, Sept. 24: Connecticut to defeat Yale, Lafayette to trounce Princeton and Vanderbilt to override Georgia Tech—haw!
Now go on to the forecast, which you will find 100 per cent accurate!

By winning the western crown, Hannibal won the right to a playoff with an eastern team at Battle Creek, Mich.

Joe DiMaggio Out Of 'Crucial' Series

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 — (AP)— The New York Yankees were handed bad news yesterday that Joe DiMaggio will not be available for their "crucial" three-game series against the Boston Red Sox starting Saturday at Fenway Park.

The $90,000-a-year jolter is confined to his hotel room—here with a virus infection and will not be on his feet for another week, estimates Dr. Jacques Fischl, club physician. The center-fielder has been ill since last Saturday.

A report that DiMaggio was suffering with virus pneumonia and might not recover in time to play in the world series starting Oct 5 if the Yanks should win the American league pennant, brought an official statement from Arthur Patterson, club secretary.

"Joe DiMaggio is suffering from a virus infection which should run its course in about a week," Patterson said.

Patterson, after a second visit to the player, said the disease might be described as "pneumonitis," which, he said he understood, was a "child's variety" of pneumonia.

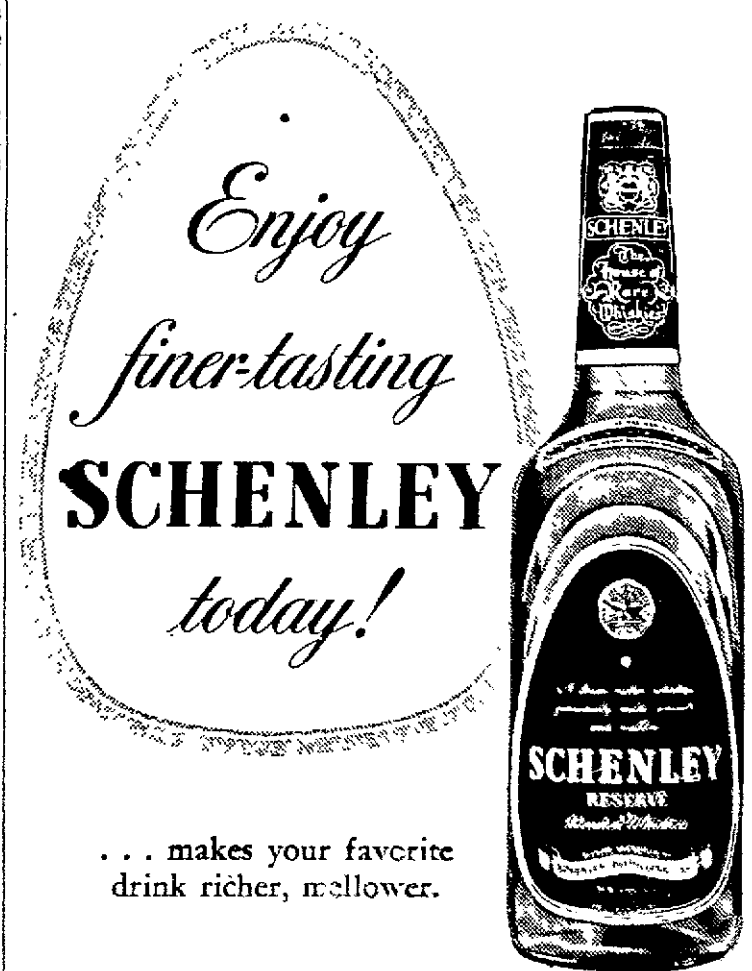

The loss of the slugger from the two games at Boston Saturday and Sunday is a heavy blow to the Yanks, as the extremely short left field fence at Fenway park offers a great target for a right-handed line drive hitter such as DiMaggio.

Merlyn Springer was the purchaser of the Moreau church building and three acres of land sold at auction, Saturday, Sept. 10, the purchase price being $720. The net proceeds of the sale will go into the Moreau cemetery endowment fund.

The history of the Moreau church goes back many years. The ground on which it stood was entered a little over one hundred years ago from the government by George Hickman, who deeded three acres of the land to trustees of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches when a building was erected on the site. In 1891 the church moved into the hands of the Cumberland Presbyterian church when a second church house was built.

Ever since George Hickman deeded the land to the church some of his ancestors have served as members of the church board and Col. Loyd Winebrenner who auctioned the properties, is a great, great, great grandson.

Monday night at the city hall was held the regular monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, Philip Bowline, president, presiding. Sixteen members were present. Highlighting the evening's discussion was the parking problem.

Heroic Effort Of Blind Woman

FORT SMITH, Ark., Sept. 21.—(AP)—A young, blind woman grappled with blazing clothes and intense pain Wednesday in a frantic attempt to save the life of a nurse.

Miss Mary Yowell's effort failed.

The nurse, Mrs. Hazel Hardway, 41, died of third degree burns several hours after she collapsed and fell across a lighted heating stove.

The blind woman suffered burns about her hands in an attempt to snuff a flaming house coat worn by Mrs. Hardway. Miss Yowell also was burned when she dragged the nurse from her house to the front yard.

Police Lt. Oscar Erke gave this account:

Mrs. Hardway was on duty in the home of Mrs. O. R. Geren, a bed ridden patient. The nurse apparently fainted and fell across the stove.

Mrs. Geren cried for help. Miss Yowell, who lives in an upstairs apartment, responded. The blind woman groped her way to the stove and dragged the nurse out-doors.

The nurse died in a Fort Smith hospital about noon.

Road Tinkering Is Costly...
To get the most out of motor funds pavements should be of CONCRETE

Official records of the 28 states that report pavement maintenance costs by type of surface show that:

1. Concrete costs an average of only $109.84 per mile per year to maintain.

2. Other types of pavement cost from 1-1/4 to more than 4 times as much to maintain.

That's important to you, Mr. Motorist, because your gasoline taxes and license fees pay for paving and for maintaining roads.

This is important too: Concrete, with the lowest average maintenance cost, generally carries the heaviest traffic. And it lasts the longest.

Durability and low annual cost. Good reasons why your new roads should be built of concrete.
